6-7 June 2019, WARSAW
II INTERNATIONAL SCIENTIFIC CONFERENCE
„Economic Sciences for Agribusiness and Rural Economy”
5 JUNE 2019 Workshops for Young Scientists organized by

Faculty of Economic Sciences
Warsaw University of Life Sciences - SGGW

Aim of conference

II International Scientific Conference „Economic Sciences for Agribusiness and Rural Economy” will be again a platform for the exchange of the scientific community views with practitioners, both from Poland and abroad. Our research interests are focused on the changing needs of the economy, with particular emphasis on agribusiness, its place in economic theory as well as changing conditions and challenges facing this sector of the economy.

One of the conference panels will be dedicated to the discussion of young scientists - participants of doctoral studies. This panel will be a continuation of the Scientific Conference "Challenges of the modern economy in the perspective of young scientists", organized annually since 2014.

Conference topics

- ♦ Adaptation processes of enterprises in conditions of implementing the principles of sustainable development
- ♦ Transformations in agriculture and food economy in European countries
- ♦ Agricultural markets functioning in the era of integration and globalization
- ♦ Policy towards agriculture and rural areas
- ♦ Social capital in local and regional development
- ♦ Innovativeness of the national economy, with particular emphasis on agribusiness
- ♦ Impact of the financial sector on agriculture, food industry and rural areas
- ♦ Logistics as a factor in the development of the economy

Proceedings

Papers sent in English that pass successfully review procedure will be published in the conference proceedings. It is recommended that the volume of a paper should not exceed 8 pages. The editorial requirements can be found on the website.

The publication will be released after the conference in paper and electronic version.
